Various Determinations of Numerical Limits on Immigrants Required Under the Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act

Determination of the Family Preference Numerical Limit for FY–2003

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 201(c) specifies that the worldwide level of family-sponsored preference immigrants for a fiscal year is equal to:

480,000,
minus the number of immigrants described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of INA 201(b)(2) who, in the previous fiscal year, were issued immigrant visas or who otherwise acquired lawful permanent resident status,<sup>1</sup>
minus the number of aliens described in INA 201(c)(4),<sup>2</sup> plus employment preference immigrant numbers that were unused during the previous fiscal year.

Under INA 201, however, the family-sponsored preference limitation for any fiscal year may not be less than 226,000.

Immediate Relative Immigrant Totals for FY–2002:

Immigrant visa workload reports received by the Department of State from consular posts worldwide show that during FY–2002 a total of 178,142 immediate relative (IR) visas were issued. This total is subject to a net reduction of 17, however, to take account of issued visas returned unused to consular offices and thus "recaptured" under INA 206.

Figures on adjustments of status at local offices of U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) compiled and provided by the Department of Homeland Security indicate that a total of 307,506 immigrants were granted lawful permanent residence at USCIS offices in the United States during FY–2002 in the categories for spouses, children, and parents of U.S. citizens; this figure includes persons who acquired permanent residence after having been admitted in nonimmigrant "K" (fiancé(e)) status. Another 11 children accompanying immediate relative parents were admitted under INA 211(a).

USCIS admission figures record 788 children accorded permanent resident status after birth abroad to a permanent resident of the United States.

Employment Preference Number Use for FY–2002:

The employment-based preference limit for FY–2002 was 142,632. A total of 142,632 of these numbers were used for FY–2002 visa issuances or USCIS adjustments of status and, as required by INA 203(b)(6), an additional 46 were applied to special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY–2001 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel]. Another 18 were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with employment preference visas. There were also 6 employment preference visas returned unused to consular offices; the numbers assigned to these issuances were thus "recaptured" under INA 206. Total unused numbers:  $142,632 - (142,632 + 18) - 46 + 6 = -58$ .

Calculation of FY–2003 Family-Sponsored Preference Limitation:

Immediate relative visa issuances during FY–2002:	178,142
(minus net total of "recaptured" FY–2002 IR visas:	– 17)
Immediate relative adjustments of status by USCIS:	+ 307,506
Children admitted after birth to immediate relative visa holders:	+ 11
Children admitted after birth abroad to lawful permanent residents:	+ 788
Immediate Relative etc. Total:	486,430

FY-2003 Worldwide Family-Sponsored Level figure:	480,000
minus IR etc. total calculated above:	-486,430
minus aliens paroled into the United States under Section 212(d)(5) in the second preceding fiscal year (FY-2001):	- n/a <sup>2</sup>
plus unused FY-2002 employment pref. numbers:	+ 0
Total	- 6,430

Since under the law the family-sponsored preference limitation for any fiscal year may not be less than 226,000, the limit for FY-2003 is fixed at:

226,000

Determination of the Employment Preference Numerical Limit for FY-2003

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 201(d) specifies that the worldwide level of employment-based preference immigrants for a fiscal year is equal to:

140,000
plus      family preference immigrant numbers that were unused during the previous fiscal year.

Family Preference Number Use for FY-2002:

The family-sponsored preference limit for FY-2002 was 226,000. A total of 194,458 numbers were used for visa issuances or USCIS adjustments of status. Another 30 were charged for children admitted under INA 211(a) accompanying parents with family preference visas. There were also 20 family preference visas returned unused to consular offices; the numbers assigned to these issuances were thus "recaptured" under INA 206 and could be reallocated. Total unused numbers:  $226,000 - (194,458 + 30) + 20 = 31,532$ .

Calculation of FY-2003 Employment-Based Preference Limitation:

Worldwide Employment-Based Level figure:	140,000
plus unused FY-2002 family preference numbers:	+ 31,532
Total:	171,532

For FY-2003, the employment-based preference limit is fixed at:

171,532

(In accordance with INA 203(b)(6), the 18 special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY-2002 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel] will be charged against the FY-2003 employment preference limit; each of the first, second, and third preferences will be reduced by 6.)

Determination of Per-Country Limitations for FY-2003

Terms of the Immigration and Nationality Act:

INA 202(a) specifies that the per-country level of family plus employment preference immigrants in any fiscal year may not exceed:

For a foreign state: 7% of the total number of family and employment visas for that fiscal year; and
For a dependent area: 2% of the total number of family and employment visas for that fiscal year.

Calculation of FY–2003 Per-Country Limits:

Worldwide Family-Sponsored FY–2003 limit:	226,000
Worldwide Employment-Based FY–2003 limit:	+ 171,532
Total:	397,532

Foreign state limit for FY–2003 (7% of 397,532):	27,827
Dependent area limit for FY–2003 (2% of 397,532):	7,951

In accordance with Section 2(d) of the Chinese Student Protection Act of 1992 (Pub. L. 102–404), the CHINA–mainland born limit for FY–2003 is reduced by 1,000 to 26,827 to compensate for earlier issuances under that legislation. (See also Appendix C.)

Under the terms of INA 203(b)(6), FY–2003 per-country limits must be reduced to compensate for the special immigrants who were issued visas or adjusted status during FY–2002 under INA 101(a)(27)(K) [certain U.S. armed forces personnel]. The following FY–2003 per-country limit will be reduced by the amount specified to compensate for such immigrants: Philippines 18. Since the Philippines chargeability is subject to the prorating provisions of INA 202(e), the reduction in that per-country limit will be accomplished under the law as follows: Each of the employment first, second, and third preferences will be reduced by 6.

Under the terms of Section 203(e) of the Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act (NACARA) of 1997 (Pub. L. 105–100 enacted November 19, 1997), as amended by Section 1(e) of the Nicaraguan Adjustment and Central American Relief Act–Technical Corrections (Pub. L. 105–139 enacted December 2, 1997), the 10,000 Employment Third Preference Other Worker (EW) numbers available for FY–2003 are reduced by 5,000 to offset adjustments under the NACARA program. (See Appendix E.)

<sup>1</sup> The immigrants described in these subparagraphs are 1) immediate relatives, i.e., spouses, children and parents of U.S. citizens, 2) children admitted under INA 211(a) on the basis of prior issuance of an immigrant visa to their accompanying parent who is such immediate relative, and 3) children born to a lawful permanent resident during a temporary visit abroad.

<sup>2</sup> At the time the numerical limits were set, information on the exact number of parolees was not available from the Department of Homeland Security. These data would not have had any effect on the determination of the FY–2003 limit, however.
